Specialist service for parenting skills development

The Positive Parenting Program (Triple P)

Triple P aims to promote positive caring relationships between parents and their children. It offers a range of ideas and new skills to help parents develop a personalised plan to encourage their child's development, and to look after themselves as parents. Parents can attend one-on-one sessions that cover a number of strategies, and/or group discussions that cover the following topics:

- Dealing with disobedience.
- Managing fighting and aggression.
- Developing good bedtime routines.
- Hassle-free shopping with children.

Referrals
